TRAGEDY

AT WINESAP

Bob Davis Kills Hughlin Price With a Shotgun.

(By our special correspondent)

Winesap, Tenn., June 7.—One of the most dastardly and cruel murders that ever disgraced any community was committed Wednesday morning of last week when Bob Davis shot and killed Hughlin Price near his home about six o'clock in the morning, about four miles from Grapevine in the edge of Cumberland county. The conditions surrounding the killing seem to be as follows:

Wednesday morning Hughlin Price, aged 20 years, with his brother, Bert Price, about 21 years of age, claim to have started to the woods with saw, axe and other tools to cut some wood for the home. When they reached a point about 200 yards from their home, Bert Price stopped for a moment and Hughlin turned facing him. Just then a shot was fired and a load of No. 8 buckshot plowed its way into the body of Hughlin Price. Two shots struck the man in the left side of the neck, one in the shoulder and one in the left arm. The man fell forward on his face dead.

The brother, Bert Price, ran to the house to get a gun, but just as he started he recognized Bob Davis and saw another man whom he did not recognize. The men who did the shooting were hid sixteen steps from their victim.

While Bert Price was gone to his home for the gun he heard shots from a high-power army rifle. When he returned the murders had gone. He found the body of his brother had been turned over and one shot fired with the high-power gun thru the body and four thru the head, which tore away almost half of back of the head.

The bullets had entered the dead man as follows: One in the right side above the nipple and came out about four inches above the left hip joint in the small of the back. The right eye was shot out, shot once under the left eye, once in the centre of the nose at the edge of the skull and once in the forehead.

The killing is the result of a shooting scrape that took place between the Prices and the Davises a few weeks ago in which Hughlin Price was shot in the side with a 45-calibre pistol ball and had his left arm broken by another shot.

Every condition points to further serious trouble at no distant date.

Special to the News.

I have been quite busy since I returned to Paris, fighting weeds and grass, and trying to get my garden cleaned out. I was gone a few days more than a month and had a very pleasant trip. I saw many relatives and friends in Dallas, Arlington, Ft. Worth and Denton County.

There have been an unusual number of wind storms this spring. I had my first experience in a storm cellar on this trip. I was in a storm cellar a part of every night that I was in Denton county, but there were no bad storms there. At some places considerable damage was done and there was some loss of life.

Farmers are having hard luck getting a stand of corn and cotton. It has been so wet and cold and some are now planting the 3rd time. Hope they will succeed this time, as it is getting pretty late to plant. I saw some folks that got a stand early which looked fine, from knee to waist high. Other places look discouraging.

Forty-five years ago today I was the star performer, or one of the interested parties in a wedding, the 3rd day of June, 1877.

The Paris High School is closing this week. The closing exercises will be at the High School building Friday night. Miss Doris Bracken of 185 Pine Bluff St., is the winner of the gold medal again this year. This is her second year and she has got the medal both years.

Mexico is out after Villa's scalp again. It seems to be pretty hard to get. Maybe they don't try very hard to get it.

Several cities have announced a reduction in prices. Think that is political bunco. It will not effect the high cost of living much. It is not a question of what party is in power. The man that stands high on the financial ladder is the one who rules all prices. All political parties look alike to him. They all go to him for orders. All fingers below him get stepped on. I don't look for much change this year. A few more fingers will be mashed and a few kicked off the ladder, and Mr. Top Man will sit still with his sardonic grin on his mug and agitate strikes and other devilment and make more big profits, and the high costs will go higher and more fingers will be mashed. Do something, stop howling.

TO ATTEND WEDDING OF DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Leland left Monday morning for Jacksonville, Fla., to attend the wedding of their daughter, Clara to Capt. Theodore Haskell, of Boston, Mass., lately with the American Expeditionary Forces in France, which was solemnized yesterday. Capt. and Mrs. Haskell will make their home in Boston, leaving immediately after the ceremony.

GEO. ADAMS WEDS MISS LOUISE FALLER

A wedding of much interest in this section was that which occurred Wednesday of last week, when Miss Louise Faller, of So. Pittsburg, became the bride of Geo. M. Adams, of Pikeville, a prominent business man of that city. The bride is the step daughter of Hon. John T. Raulston, of So. Pittsburg.

LOVE HOLDS THESE CLUB MEMBERS TOGETHER

In a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, where thousands of nameless babies first see the light of day. (Insert) Play time in the nursery of a Rescue Home and Maternity Hospital.

Out-of-Love Club members, whose little nameless babies first saw the light of day in a Salvation Army Maternity Hospital, meet once a month in each of the twenty-three cities in this country in which there is a Salvation Army Rescue Home. They discuss their problems, their work, their gratitude to the organization that sheltered them when they were friendless, their plans for the future.

The members of the club, which is one of the biggest women's organizations in the country, numbering more than 30,000, were all at one time inmates of a Salvation Army Rescue Home for unfortunate women.

They are all employed now in positions which the Salvation Army has found for them, and they are all making good. They come back from time to time to the meetings of their club to help the girls who are still inmates of the institutions, to bring a little sunshine into their lives and give them new hope for the future.

This is the system that the Salvation Army uses to keep in touch with the girls who have passed out of the Rescue Homes. This is one of the reasons why more than 85 per cent of all the women who are graduates of the Army's twenty-six institutions for erring girls are now supporting themselves and their children and leading self-respecting lives.

The Salvation Army Rescue Homes are one of the many activities to be supported by the Salvation Army's $10,000,000 Home Service Fund, for which an appeal will be made from May 10 to 20.

SPECIAL TRIP TO CARRY MESSAGE

Receiving a telegram from the representative of the miners unions in Washington, urging him to push action in the miners unions of this county, endorsing the legislation in congress regarding relieving the car shortage, D. A. Tate, of So. Pittsburg made a special trip to Whitwell Thursday evening to deliver it to the proper authorities and urge action, as it was of great importance to this section, both to secure winter coal during the summer and to give work to the miners. He was accompanied by Mrs. Tate, and W. C. Hill, of the News, representing a paper which has always had the welfare of labor at heart, and who went at the solicitation of Mr. Tate, to assist him in putting the message into the hands of representative parties. It was left with G. W. Jordan, for action by the miners. Mr. Tate is greatly interested in the success of things industrially, and made the trip solely thru his desire to assist.

Statue With Two Faces.

In the garden of the Tuileries in Paris there is a statue that viewed from one side shows a woman who slouches carelessly on her pedestal and looks down with an unpleasant, derisive grin. From the other side one sees the real woman with the mask torn from her face. Her head is thrown back in anguish, her teeth clenched and her eyelids droop in pain. Her body is no longer slouching but tense. She holds the mask in her left hand. This remarkable statue was first made in clay 65 years ago by Ernest Christophe, who called it "Sor-row." Twenty-one years ago Christophe remade the statue in marble and gave it a new name—"The Mask."

NEW HOTEL OPENED AT CATRIGHT.

A new hotel has been opened at Catright, the new mining town near Dunlap. It was built to take care of the employees of the company, but in addition they propose to take care of the transient trade. Building is modern in every respect, and substantially furnished throughout. Emmett Jones is proprietor.

Building Dyehouse

Jasper, Tenn., June 7.—(Special)—The dyehouse in connection with the Pryor Hosiery Mills at Jasper is being erected under direction of Supt. W. L. Goodwin. It is 100 feet long by 25 feet wide and one-story, brick construction. It is located directly east of the hosiery mill. This enterprise is a great thing for Jasper, and giving employment to quite a number. Machinery for the dyeing plant has been purchased.

The Hedrick Coal & Lumber Co. has received a caterpillar tractor for use lumbering.

UNCLE TOM'S LETTER

I attended the grave decoration at Oak Grove May 30. A fine crowd was out. Bro. Ferrill Tate gave a plain, simple exhortation suitable to the occasion.

Perhaps not many people really know the origin of Decoration Day. It emanated from one of our southern school mistresses. During our civil war a battle was fought near a schoolhouse and many of the killed were buried near it. This young lady saw the neglected condition of the graves and taking her students they cleaned off the graves nicely and when the flowers bloomed she took the children and decorated the graves of those fallen heroes. Her act has spread to all the civilized world. Little did she think the world would catch the spirit that actuated her. I have forgotten her name, altho' I've heard Gen. John B. Gordon speak of it in his lifetime and tell the story while tears ran down his cheeks. Our Southern people have never made it a day of frolic and carousal. We've never yet felt that it was altogether a hero day. Not every man who wore the blue was all that his colors stood for. Not every man who wore the gray has left a name to the honor of his comrades. These we will forget and concentrate our minds upon the grand heroes who stood for God, home and county. It is a glorious thing to catch the spirit of the great men of the past, men who offered their very best sacrifices for the safety of human beings. Most of the benefits of memorial are not seen in uniforms and regalia. The ideals are not all. Military heroism is not all of the field and booming ing guns. Some of the finest sacrifices ever made are the very opposite of the pomp and power of armies. Memorial Day helps people to see the nation's needs. Children will ask, "What mean ye by these stones (this day)." Memorial day has a special history. We need the call of our heroic dead to warn us of the danger enemies may seek to implant in our young and rising generation. Our country first, last and all the time. There were about two hundred people present at the graveyard and the graves were decorated by the Odd Fellows, Juniors, Daughters and Red Men. The crowd was very quiet and orderly.

Bro. Ferrill Tate says he wants to hold a revival meeting at Oak Grove on the head of Battle Creek just as soon as crops are over and one at the institute down at Pinhook. At Brown's schoolhouse on the edge of Marion county the people are going to have an all day service with dinner on the ground the 4th of July. Some think the booze element will be on hand to spoil things. Not much unless they are able to keep out of the Jasper jail. Don't be uneasy and afraid of that gang. Prepare your baskets and come along, one and all, and hear Bro. Elihu Fults, Rev. C. H. Dykes and others. The liquor element isn't running things altogether up here. The best people are going to have a sayso about how things go.

Well, 55 years ago on the 31st day of May, 1865, I surrendered myself to the Yankees and later I agreed to support the constitution of the United States, and I've done it and aim to continue to do so in spite of the liquor element- I favor law and order, having had lots of experience and seen what lawlessness would do for a people and a community. There is no compromise. I've never surrendered my home and my country to vice and immorality. Can't do it. I know and am persuaded the best and most intelligent, cultured and refined are on my side and they are the ones I prefer to herd with.

On the 4th Sunday Bro. Cal Parson will preach at Oak Grove. Hope they will treat the old brother nicely and have good order.

There will be a graveyard cleaning at the Oak Grove graveyard sometime during August. I hope soft drink stands will not be erected on that day. People, or at least a lot of them, do not want such days made a day of gain to any man or institution. We object and hope human civilization will prevail. Cut it out. Uncle Tom.

Visiting Parents.

C. W. Quarles, of Laveene, Ariz., is in the county, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Quarles, of Jasper. He is much improved in health, the climate there agreeing with him.
